Python

Pythons are venomous beasts,
They massacre lizards.
They live in holes and
Sleep out in blizzards.

They smoothly slither from the grass,
Towards the innocent toad,
Their eyes are full of hunger,
As he eats it on the road.

Attempts to beat this pacey beast,
Always end in loss,
They’ll kill and murder throughout the country,
And still remain the boss.

Stuart